In-class assignments

- Suppose a move starts at 09:32:50 on the morning, and its length is given by the user. The user provides three integers for hour, minute and second, respectively (assume that the movie is less than 3 hours). Please write a program to calculate and print the time when the movie ends in the format of hour:minute:second.